The Insurance Development Forum: industry's role in climate resilience and development

Date: Thursday 17 October 2019

Time: 1.10pm - 1.55pm

Speaker: Ekhosuehi lyahen, Secretary General, Insurance Development Forum

In this IIL London Market lecture Ekhosuehi gave an insight into the work of the IDF and the efforts to close the protection gap and the role of insurance in supporting resilience to climate change. Insights and lessons learned regarding experiences in structuring such public-private partnerships to tackle this issue were also shared particularly in the context of developing countries/emerging markets where the protection gaps are significant.

By the end of this lecture, members would have gained an insight into:

- The IDF, its mandate and what it has been established to do.
- Key areas where the insurance industry can make an active contribution towards supporting greater resilience
- Some of the lessons that have been learned from implementation
