

JOHN MCMILLAN

Engineering Principal Inspector
AAIB

John McMillan joined AAIB in 2005 and has been part of over 300 air accident investigations, including 80 as investigator in charge. He is primarily responsible for the engineering aspects of investigations and has been the UK lead on several large international investigations deploying overseas.

Prior to joining AAIB John worked in a variety of roles in the European Aviation Industry at British Aerospace in both Manchester and Bristol, and for both Aerospatiale and Airbus in Toulouse. He has worked on numerous aerospace projects including the A321, A330, A340, A400M and A380.