The rise of software as a product - Implications for insurance / reinsurance

Date: Thursday 21 November 2019

Time: 1.10pm - 1.55pm

Speakers:

Michaela Herron, Partner, Mason, Hayes & Curran
Deirdre Munnely, Partner, Mason, Hayes & Curran

In this Insurance Institute of London Reinsurance lecture Michaela and Deirdre discussed whether software can be considered a product and therefore subject to the product liability framework and if so, what this means for the insurance and reinsurance industries.

By the end of this lecture, members would have gained an insight into:

- Whether software can be considered a product and how the product liability framework might apply
- The types of risk presented by software as a product and what types of insurance policies will be involved
- What this means for reinsurance and the issues which reinsurers will need to be mindful of.
