

ED MITCHELL

Pensions Administrator
Willis Towers Watson

Ed Mitchell is a Pensions Administrator who has worked for Willis Towers Watson since February 2019. Having struggled to receive the appropriate levels of support in previous roles within other working environments, which led him to feel very unengaged and despondent, Ed feels that his current employer Willis Towers Watson have gone above and beyond by providing efficient managerial assistance and an array of opportunities for corporate development. Ed enjoys sharing his experiences with others as well as helpful tips to aid people with Neural Diversity become their own great successes in the workplace.