

DR. KO OGASAWARA

Vice President & Senior Chief Engineer, Space Systems Division
Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Ltd.

Ko Ogasawara is Vice President & Senior Chief Engineer of Space Systems at Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Ltd. (MHI). Since he joined MHI in 1988, he participated in a variety of space system developments such as H-II Launch Vehicle, Japanese Experiment Module "Kibo", Japanese mini-space shuttle "HOPE" and attended a number of launch operations. As VP and Senior Chief Engineer since April 2020, he is responsible for supervising engineering aspects of diverse space business at MHI including H-IIA Launch Services, development of space station cargo vehicle and research of future space transportation.