Gavin Kealey is one of England's leading Commercial QCs practising at the English Bar. He is a Deputy High Court Judge in the Commercial Court (from where you will find some of his important judgments on insurance / reinsurance law), and also Head of Chambers at 7 King's Bench Walk which is England's premier set of insurance chambers. You will find his name in the law reports from first instance decisions all the way up to the Privy Council and the Supreme Court. You will even find him reported in cases in the USA where he has acted as counsel (most recently in 2019 in Memphis Tennessee, in Federal Court), as expert witness (most recently in 2021 in New York, in Federal Court), and as arbitrator (most recently in 2020 in New York, Federal Court). He was, of course, in the Supreme Court in the FCA litigation, where he was chosen to make the submissions for all eight insurers on the question of causation. He is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, a fellow of the AIAC in Malaysia, and a member of JAMS International. As a result of his international arbitration practice, Gavin is particularly familiar with New York, French, Colombian and Mexican laws of contract and insurance. His experience outside England as counsel, expert witness and as arbitrator extends to such jurisdictions as New Zealand, Bahamas, Cayman Islands, Bermuda, France, Holland, Dubai, Singapore, Italy, Malaysia, Norway, Spain and the US.
